

English Week instructions

During this unusual week on the theme of Harry Potter each student is a member of a house. Gryffindor, Hufflepuff, Slytherin or Ravenclaw, you will have to defend the colours of your "house" during this week, by participating in several activities you will score points. Each house is divided into groups of 5 or 6 students composed of TC1 & TC2 (PDF on the website). You will be divided into classes (have a look at the PDF on the website) and you will have to defend your colours against the other groups.

Like every year, you will have to carry out several missions throughout the week. To win the Cup of the 4 houses, it will require creativity in your workgroup. You will have a role to play to make your house win as many points as possible for and lead it to victory.

In this special week on the theme of Harry Potter, your works will be based on "magic Innovations".

So the TC1s of each group will make a presentation in English of their innovation that will be marked by N. Motte & JL. Fauchon. This presentation should be persuasive and original just like your product. Everything (almost) is allowed and you will have to present the marketing mix of your product, for example its features, advantages etc. (Please refer to N.Motte instructions on the website.)

➔ Presentation will take place on Wednesday (Check your timetable on the ENT)

TC2s will have to make an advertising poster in English to promote this innovation, including a slogan. Your poster must be impactful and professional.

➔ You have to send us your poster for Wednesday at 6PM

In addition, the TC2s will have to make a video presentation (and/or promotion) of this innovation with the compulsory participation of the TC1s. This video will last 3:00-3:30 minutes. You have free hand about the way to present your product, test sessions, advertising, stage-setting ... But pay attention to the quality of the sound that influences the understanding and the rating of your video.

➔ You have to send us your video for Thursday at 5PM

To stay in the topic of the week, there will be four types of innovations to decline as much as you want. You can add features, divert, and make them current or totally magic. These innovations, however, must have meaning and be understandable.

!!Please check your class and respect this repartition!!

Group 1 (TC1) / group A (TC2) will have as subject a magic wand

Group 2 / B -> An owl company.

Group 3 / C -> A magic garment.

Group 4 / D -> A magic broom.

Following the oral presentations of TC1 which will take place on Wednesday, the best presentation of each class will be selected and the group will have to present it again in amphi (with TC2s students) on Friday morning. This big final will enable all the students to discover the best project for each subject (the magic wand, the owl, the clothing and the magic broom) but especially to elect the winner of the week!

How to get points to make your house win the "4 Houses cup" ?

As you know the competition takes place throughout the week and the opportunity to score points for his house will be numerous and these presentations are part of it. The winners' groups of these votes will be rewarded with valuable points for their house.

A ranking will be established and will evolve throughout the week, teachers will have the opportunity to give points during classes to the most motivated students.

Riddles will be available and posted on the website twice a day. Just send us a message with your answer to win the points. One answer per group will be taken into account. So think about it carefully!

- ➔ In the morning, answers will be opened from 9am to 12pm every day and you will have to find a word. The goal is to form a magic formula on Friday morning. In the afternoon another riddle will be available from 14pm to 17pm to make you still win more points for your house.

The dress up day of Friday will also be the subject of an allocation of points to the most creative and involved of you... Think of your disguise!

Every evening a report on the ranking will be published on the website of the English Week following the events of the day. You can follow the evolution of the competition.

We declare the great annual 4 House's Cup opened, let's enjoy the competition!
